DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed, 6-13-05, is acknowledged. Claims 10, 14 and 18 were amended by the amendment. Claims 10-20 are pending in this application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 10-20 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chein (GB2320190).

The claims are drawn to kit with human growth hormone and a supplemental hormone that is administered separately.

Applicants argue that the Chein deals with administering hormones as anti-aging treatments. Multiple sclerosis is not a disease associated with degenerative conditions that occur as a result of old age. Accordingly, there is no motivation in Chein to provide a regimen for administration of various hormones for reducing symptoms commonly associated with multiple sclerosis.

Applicants arguments, filed 6-13-05, have been considered but have not been found persuasive.

First, the rejection, in the previous office action was based upon anticipation under 102 and not obviousness under 103. Statements regarding motivation are not necessary for this rejection. Secondly, as stated in the previous office action, the reference discloses all of the components to that kit. Applicants have not presented any difference between the disclosed components of the kit and the instant components. Where the claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical in structure or composition, a prima facie case of either anticipation or obviousness has been established. In re Best, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977). “When the PTO shows a sound basis for believing that the products of the applicant and the prior art are the same, the applicant has the burden of showing that they are not.” In re Spada, 15 USPQ2d 1655, 1658 (Fed. Cir. 1990). Therefore, the prima facie case can be rebutted by evidence showing that the prior art products do not necessarily possess the characteristics of the claimed product. In re Best, supra. It does not matter what the intended use of the kit is in this application or the prior art, so long as the products are identical. Here, the products are identical including the dosage regiment, as pointed out in the office action dated 5-27-04, and thus the claims are anticipated.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
